Twitter 101—Key Terms

- Twitter—an online social networking platform that allows users to send and receive text-based message, or “tweets.”
- Tweets—text-based messages of up to 140 characters (letters, symbols, words, spaces, & punctuation.)
- @—a way of referring to another user, for example, my username is @tysonkimberly
- Twitter Feed—the running list of tweets
- RT—A retweet— or RT—when you share the tweet of one user with all of your Twitter followers.
- MT— a modified retweet—or MT—that’s been modified or edited in some way
- Reply—when you directly respond to a specific user beginning with their username
- DM—direct message—You can only direct message to someone you follow. You can preface your tweet with DM @tysonkimberly, for example.
- Follower—Users that you follow on Twitter. On Twitter, following is not necessarily a two-way street. You can follow users and they may or may not choose to follow you.
- Hashtags—A hashtag (#) is a word or phrase preceded by a “#.” By using hashtags, you can aggregate tweets around that topic. Hashtags (#) help you focus on tweets around a specific topic. You can also add a hashtag to any tweet. Just follow the tweet with an appropriate hashtag and it will appear in the group. For example, here’s a recent conversational tweet with hashtags—It’s Terrific Tuesday! What are you reading today? #elemteachers #literacy #reading

- Sometimes groups meet at a specific time around a hashtag. For example, folks meet around the hashtag #titletalk once a month on Sunday nights at 8 pm EST. Colby Sharp and Donalyn Miller moderate the online meetings around a topic such as favorite read alou.

Hashtags for Education

If you’re new to Twitter or you haven’t bothered with hashtags, this list should be a handy reference tool. It is by no means comprehensive; however, it will give you a running start for where to join in on conversations and information about education. Many of the chat groups have a moderator/s and meet at specific times each week or month and focus conversations around a specific topic.
